The essentials for playing a good game of bridge are to be truthful, clearheaded, and considered, prudent but not, averse to taking a risk, and not to cry over spilt milk. And incidentally those are perhaps also the essentials for playing the more important game of life. – W. Somerset Maugham

Just Sit Right Back and You'll Hear a Tale

Written By : Terry Young

Just sit right back and you'll hear a tale

A tale 'bout a man named_____.

He started with a pair of Queens,

But only had one Ace.

His trumps were a mighty sad affair;

The honours few ad weak.

Our here knew ha he'd go down

without a three-three break,

Without a three-three break.

He started off by drawing trump,

But, oh, at what a cost.

If he couldn't find a way to drop the missing King,

The contract would be lost,

The contract would be lost,

The hand went down a bunch of tricks,

By more than just a few.

From lack of points,

A bad split, too.

Three missing Kings and a Queen.

A blown finesse

Sealed the mess.

He should have left it in two.

So this is the tale of our bridge escape.

We don't have too much time.

We have to make the best of things.

This is hard to rhyme.

With _____ there to guide our ways,

We'll do our very best

To make our bids seem plausible.

We welcome any guest.

We've books, a coach and bidding help.

But it's still all Greek to me.

Like filling out my tax return,

It's confusing as can be.

So join us twice a week my friends.

You're sure to have a laugh.

There might be some amazing plays,

And my be a few gaffs.
